

My Old Dentistry Was Breaking Keeping Me From Smiling & Causing My Headaches

Violet knew she wanted and needed restorative cosmetic dentistry; she just didn't know how badly she needed it.

"I have always known that I did not smile around others because my old dentistry looked awful," says Violet. "It was embarrassing. What I didn't know is that via the old dentistry and genetics my smile and bite alignment were the source for many of my headaches, neck and shoulder pain."

"Fixing a smile without considering the bite alignment is like fixing a wrecked car when the engine doesn't even work," says Dr. Mohtashami. "If I would have fixed Violet's teeth without considering her bite alignment, she would have just ground and chipped away her new dentistry. We repositioned her bite and then fixed her teeth making her look fantastic and feel much more comfortable."

"I no longer get migraine headaches and my smile looks great," says Violet. "I did a lot of research and visited several cosmetic dentists before choosing Dr. Mohtashami of All Bright Dental. He was the first to tell me that we needed to address the problem before making my smile beautiful."

When it comes to cosmetic, reconstructive, neuromuscular or general dentistry, it matters who you go to. Be sure to research any medical procedure and doctor prior to having a serious procedure performed. Make sure the doctor has the training and experience you expect and need.
